TAE Fundamentals

What are the TAE Fundamentals?

Training Packages

Are developed by Service Skills Organisations (SSOs) to meet the training needs of an industry, or a group of industries.

Detail how units of competency can be packaged into nationally recognised qualifications that align to the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Specify the knowledge and skills (known as competencies) required by individuals to perform effectively in the workplace.

May also include:

- Skill sets
- Companion Volume
- Implementation Guide
- User Guides

Consist of the following nationally endorsed components:

- qualifications
- units of competency
- assessment requirements

Rules of Evidence

The evidence used to make a decision about competence must be valid, sufficient, authentic and current.

Qualifications Units of Competency

Qualifications

- ✓ Units are combined into meaningful groups to meet workplace roles, and aligned to vocational qualification levels identified in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF)

Units of Competency

- ✓ Specify the standard of performance required in the workplace
- ✓ Each unit of competency has a unique code, which is assigned when the training package is endorsed, or when new units of competency are added to an endorsed training package.

Assessment Validation

Validation involves the reviewing, comparing and evaluating assessment processes, tools and evidence contributing to judgements made by a range of assessors against the same standards.

Validation is a systematic process to confirm assessment judgements are being made correctly.

The activity is a quality review and is not intended to be used to make adjustments or changes to assessment outcomes.

Evidence of validation activities must be kept.
