Subject	Emergency Management Training Opportunity

An opportunity exists with some vacancies under the NSW Premiers Department : Emergency Management Curriculum, scheduled until end of June 2025. Surf Life Saving Sydney shares this opportunity with our Clubs for members who would be suited to this opportunity.

These courses are available fee free and provide foundational learning for anyone working in emergency management, including volunteers.

Applying Foundations in Emergency Management

This course builds on the fundamentals of emergency management covered in the Foundations in Emergency Management online course. It enables learners to apply the key concepts of emergency management arrangements in NSW.

Applying Emergency Operations Centre Concepts

The aim of the workshop is to improve situational awareness and provide the knowledge and skills required to work effectively in an Emergency Operations Centre (EOC).

Applying Evacuation Management Concepts

The overall aim of this training is to support learners to apply evacuation management principles for all hazards that may impact a community in NSW.

It assists learners to understand the requirements and impacts of evacuations in a community so they can effectively contribute towards planning, implementing, coordinating, and managing the five stages of evacuation. The course covers guidance on applying the NSW Evacuation Management Guidelines.

Members are encouraged to attend local training at La Perouse, Lucas Heights or in the Greater Sydney area.

Further details and how to enrol can be found at Face to face courses - Emergency Management Capability Hub or contacting the Capability Development Team within the Premier's Department at EMTraining@premiersdepartment.nsw.gov.au

Any club member enquiries for further information can be directed to Patrick Moore emergencymanagement@surflifesavingsydney.com.au
